

Scottish Rowing: Rowing Development Manager

Scottish Rowing is seeking to recruit an experienced person with a proven track record to play a key role in the development of outdoor and indoor rowing throughout Scotland.

Salary range: £25,000 - £30,000 per annum depending on experience.
Working week will be 37 hours and will include evening/weekend work.

Summary

Funded by sportscotland, we are seeking to recruit a Rowing Development Manager who will be responsible for leading the programme of sports development across Scottish Rowing.

The successful applicant will work closely with member clubs, schools, universities and other relevant bodies to develop and implement the sports development strategies and action plans. The postholder will be key in helping to establish pathways for rowers from schools and universities to clubs. You will be expected to manage the main Scottish Rowing office, including the supervision of three employees based in the building.

You will be educated to degree level (or equivalent) in a relevant discipline. Candidates should possess a sound knowledge of sport development principles and have the ability to engage, motivate and enthuse volunteers and fellow professionals. You must be able to illustrate effective partnership working skills and the ability to meet agreed targets. Candidates will be expected to travel throughout Scotland and occasionally England to fulfil your job.
